LIGE SEBREE'S SUDDEN DEATH.

Pneumonia Carries Him Off
After Five Days' Illness.

STARTED IN LIFE HERE.

Was County Attorney and Representative in the Legislature.

Henderson, Ky., Nov. 18.—Elijah Garth Sebree, one of the best known men in the State, died this afternoon at 4:20 o'clock, after an illness of five days with pneumonia. He was seized with a severe cold on Monday last, and on Tuesday pneumonia had developed in both lungs, and the exception of rare intervals grew steadily worse. Friday night he lapsed into a deep sleep, from which he never roused.

Mr. Sebree was in his 47th year, having been born in Todd county, near Trenton, in 1858. He attended the home schools until his sixteenth year, when he was sent to Bethany College, West Virginia, from which he graduated in his nineteenth year, and in the following year he obtained his license to practice law. In his twenty-third year he married Miss Margaret Banks, daughter of the late David Banks, of Henderson, Ky. Shortly after his marriage Mr. Sebree located in Hopkinsville, Ky., where he practiced his profession for years. He was elected county attorney of Christian county, and after serving two or three terms was sent to the Kentucky Legislature. Declining a renomination, Mr. Sebree removed to Henderson in 1899 and engaged in the practice of law and in the management of the Henderson street railway, which was largely built by his capital.

Mr. Sebree always manifested a warm interest in politics and was the Republican nominee in the Second congressional district in the year 1894, but was defeated, the district being overwhelmingly Democratic. A few years since Mr. Sebree disposed of his street railway interests. For the past six or eight years he was the attorney of the St. Bernard Coal Company.

The deceased is survived by a wife and four children, namely, Mrs. James Yeaman, Elijah Garth, Jr., Margaret and David B.

Mr. Sebree was famous as a raconteur. He had a fine mind, and attained eminence in the practice of law. He enjoyed his home life to the fullest extent, never a cross word passing his lips in the home circle. He was a charter member of the Henderson Lodge of Elks, No. 28.

The members of the Henderson bar met this afternoon and appointed a committee composed of Malcolm Yeaman, A. O. Stanley and Montgomery Merritt to draft suitable resolutions on Mr. Sebree's death. The funeral services will be conducted tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the residence of the Rev. Thomas Cummings, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

BADLY BURNED

While Pouring Coal Oil Over
Live Coals.

Mrs. W. T. Wadlington, of near Gracey, was painfully burned Sunday. Fire in the hall heater had not been burning satisfactorily and Mrs. Wadlington threw a cup of coal oil on the flames. Immediately there was a flash, the fire enveloping her face. The flesh on her face and neck was scorched, her eyebrows and lashes were singed and one hand badly burned. A physician was summoned at once and did everything possible for her relief, but she is still suffering very much from the injuries.

MIDNIGHT MURDER.

John Cheaney Shoots Maud
Ellis, Alias Mrs. Scott, to Death.

A BLOODY AFFAIR

Afterwards Shoots and Dangerously Wounds
Duncan Veach.

Maudie Ellis a corpse and Duncan Veach lying in a dangerous condition from a pistol shot through his right hip and an eight weeks' old child left without a mother, is the result of John Cheaney's loading up on bad whiskey last Saturday night.

After committing the fiendish deed Cheaney was arrested in front of Hotel Latham, on Virginia street, and is now in jail awaiting an examining trial.

The particulars of what came near, and may yet be, a double murder, so far as ascertained, point to one of the most cold-blooded murders known here.

John Cheaney has fired stationary engines in the city for a number of years, and it is said, hardly gets out of one difficulty before he is into another. He has never had any real associates and belongs to the under-crust of our population. His wages have generally been spent in riotous living, with no regard for dress or decent appearance. It is said that he has a wife, and probably a child or two, somewhere.

The particulars are so shocking, though contradicting, that they should hardly be repeated or allowed entrance into the homes of our citizens.

From the testimony of three witnesses of the killing, who were before the Coroner's jury, Cheaney was in a house just southeast of the city limits near the L. & N., and not far from the river. This is one of the houses of ill fame in that section, and is known as the "Red House." The evidence shows that Cheaney was in the house with the woman where some one called her out. His victim went out to the front gate, when a man was waiting for her and engaged her in conversation. This aroused Cheaney's anger and he followed the woman to the gate, and seizing her by the throat with his left hand, he said to her: "I will fix you," and fired two shots into her breast. The woman then ran into the house. One of the witnesses says that Cheaney followed her into the house and told her, with an oath, that he would kill her, and fired the third shot, when the woman fell to the floor dead.

A woman who lives next door to the "Red House," hearing the first two shots, ran to the gate in time to see the woman go into the house and went in, when the murderer cursed her and told her if she interfered with him he would kill her. This neighbor testified that she saw the man fire the fatal shot.

Cheaney then left the house and walked into town. Somewhere on Campbell street, near Ninth, he overtook Duncan Veach, who was walking quietly along the street. Cheaney told Veach to run, when Veach asked him what he meant. Cheaney told him it was "no time to be fooling" and drawing his pistol fired one shot, the ball entering the back side of his right hip. Probably striking a bone, it ranged upward.

Cheaney then made his way towards the center of town, stopping at the fruit store of Tony Datillo, opposite Hotel Latham. It is said that Cheaney told some one that he first went to police headquarters to give himself up, but finding no one there, he then went to Datillo's, where he was arrested by officer Clark and special officer Doherty, who carried him to jail. Tony Datillo, who had learned of the murder, took the pistol away from Cheaney, which was given to the officers after the arrest was made.

A rumor was current on the streets Sunday night that Veach, who was considered in a very critical condition from the first, had died a little after 5 o'clock. An investigation yesterday morning developed that the wounded man passed a good night and was much better, with fair chances of recovery.

The dead woman leaves a little child of only about eight weeks of age. Her husband, a man named Scott, is now in the U. S. navy, having, as stated by her grandfather, left her some time since. He was arrested here last spring as a deserter and, as we are told, is a fireman on one of our large war ships, now in foreign waters, having, it is said, been sentenced to a term of five years' service at hard labor.

Application was made for the unfortunate woman to be buried at the expense of the county, but it later developed that she had a small policy of insurance in the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., the policy not being for over $70. The local agent says the beneficiary is her husband.

Duncan Veach is known as a horse trader. He is a quiet good citizen and has a wife and four children, and, should he be so fortunate as to recover from his wound, his family will greatly need his help before he is able to again follow his calling.

Life has become too cheap in this city and county and the murderer, who will spend many years in prison to repent his foul deed, has not the sympathy of anyone. The people are becoming more insistent each day that murderers should die upon the scaffold, instead of serving a term in the penitentiary.

There seems to be no reason for Cheaney's killing the woman except that he could not bear the idea of her preferring another man to himself. It is said that Cheaney was under the influence of whiskey Saturday night, but the police think that he was not so drunk as not to know what he was doing, as he walked quite straight on his way to the jail.

The idea has been advanced that Cheaney, when he makes his defense, will plead the "non compos mentis act." But this will not satisfy the people. Though it is well known that Cheaney has never had the advantages of an education, he has never been considered an imbecile. And, though the Kentuckian is far from any desire to inflame the public mind against anyone or arouse a prejudice that might cheat an unfortunate of a fair trial, yet we but echo the sentiment of our best people when we say that every murderer should have justice meted out to him, whether he be white or black. The blood of many men cries

WISE BRUIN PUTS MEAT IN STORAGE.

Chittenden, Vt.—The cracker barrel aggregation gathered at the general store last night after a day in the woods spotting deer runways along which city "sports" will be placed later to slaughter bucks, if their aim be true enough, and several indulged in reminiscences. Several pretty fair sporting yarns had been spun when the subject got around to bears. Then Sam White, who lives in Northam when he isn't hunting or fishing or digging ginseng roots, stretched his neck and launched forth into a bear monologue.

"It beats all tarnation how knowin' some of them critters be," he declared, while the rest shucked around in their hard-bottomed chairs and settled down to hear a good one. "Yes, sir, it does beat all tarnation. Between bears, trout and ginseng and the hand of Providence, I've been able to make quite a livin' out of these 'ere hills for a considerable spell.

"Elder Burbank's yarn touchin' on the varmint 'T Spruce Hollar puts me in mind of the time Providence and an ol' he-bear helped me out 'f a middlin' tight fix the middle o' last winter. It was the fust 'f January, as I rec'lect it, and I was choppin' for Deacon Hemmin'way up to the top o' Killington peak. It's turrible mean work, choppin', but ye do hafta do it onct in a while, and I was cussing my luck and wishin' the fishin' season wold open and things green up when a snortin' snowstorm hit the peak and made me as blue as a parbled owl. I had my dinner pail—I uster go home nights—and I was middlin' comfortable onct 'long in the middle of the afternoon, when I seen it wasn't goin' to let up and figgered I'd hafta stay out all night.

"So I built me a lean-to out o' some spruce boughs, started a fire and cooked what victuals I had left from noonin'. They wan't over much, and as it was too pesky cold to think o' sleepin' I sot up till mornin', with my stomerck a-hollerin' for grub something turrible. It got so bad I melted some snow and tried to fill up on water. When it come daylight the storm was ragin' harder'n ever, and I was so hungry I could have eat rabbits, which is worse'n eatin' cat, and I says to myself, 'this 'ere storm is liable to keep up three days an' I'll starve to death if I don't do somethin' mighty quick.'

"But there didn't seem to be no hin' I could do, for I was penned in and dassan't go more'n thirty foot from the shack for fear o' gettin' lost. I admit I was some discouraged when the wind shifted and I had to move the lean-to over against a pile of rocks to keep the thing from collapsin'. I was fussin' round 'mongst the stones when I discovered the mouth o' a cave, and, thinkin' it would be better inside than out, I lighted a spruce knot torch and scurped my way in.

"Wal, I swan to man, if I didn't get the biggest surprise o' my life when I got to the end o' the passageway 40 foot from the mouth! For, lyin' on a ledge was six pigs with Deacon Hemmin'way's brand on 'em, two rabbits and a ewe lamb. They was frozen stiff and as hard as brickbats. The thruts of every one on 'em had been slit by somethin' sharp, and the innards had been taken out as suck as a butcher could do it. They was piled reg'lar, too—lyin' head and tails—and was as fresh as 'ough they had been killed the day before.

"I was wonderin' how in Sam Hill they got in the cave dead, when I heard a heavy breathin' a little beyond and raised the torch. I seen the passageway bellied out into a sorter half-round cave, and that over at one side an ol' he bear was curled up on a lot o' leaves takin' his winter's snooze. He was lyin' peaceful and onuspectin', and it came to me in a minute how them carcasses got on the ledge. You see, he was one o' them knowin' critters and he'd laid in a supply o' Deacon Hemmin'way's pigs and a ewe lamb belongin' to Squire Remsen to make a meal on when he woke up in the spring. He knew he'd rouse long before it thawed out, cause the cave faced south and got the fust sun, so he jest figgered he'd be provident for onct. By contrivin' as he did he could git several square meals and take on some fat before he sot out huntin' his livin'.

"Them pigs was a mighty big god-send to me, now I can tell ye. I jest uptied out with two and in ten minutes I was broilin' pork tenderlin'. When I'd filled up I got two more, and when the storm stopped next day I plinted for home with enough meat over my shoulders to pay for the time I had to lay off.

"The next day the deacon and me sot out after the bear. The deacon allowed he'd order die, seen' as he'd been raidin' his barnyard for three years and had make off with three traps and a pound o' lead fired from the carbine. So we got him to shares, and the deacon was so tickled that he didn't say a word about claimin' the pigs I hadn't eat."—N. Y. World.

We tried many remedies and was treated by the family physician but nothing seemed to do him much good. I learned about Doan's Kidney Pills and got a box at Thomas & Trahern's drug store. He used them and there was a noticeable improvement in a short time. After he had taken all of the contents that which had proven such an annoyance was entirely relieved. We consider Doan's Kidney Pills worthy of strong endorsement."

In Time of Peace

In the first months of the Russia-Japan war we had a striking example of the necessity for preparation and the early advantage of those who, so to speak, "have shingled their roofs in dry weather."

The virtue of preparation has made history and given to us our greatest men. The individual as well as the nation should be prepared for any emergency. Are you prepared to successfully combat the first cold you take? A cold can be cured much more quickly when treated as soon as it has been contracted and before it has become settled in the system.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for its cures of colds and it should be kept at hand ready for instant use. For sale by L. L. Elgin and Anderson-Fowler Co., up-to-date druggists at Hopkinsville.

HARD LOT OF THE SMOKERS

Man with the Cigar Is Not Welcomed Even in the Woods—Treated as a Public Charge.

This is getting to be a bleak world for the man with the cigar, asserts the Hartford Courant. Even if he takes to the woods, the state forester or fire warden will drop down on him and put him to rout and to shame for daring to subject the community to the risk of a conflagration. At the hotels and cafes certain rooms are set aside for the men who want to smoke. Immediately these are invaded by the women, and some of the women frown their disapproval if a poor man dares to light cigar or cigarette in their presence. Streetcar officials, probably smokers themselves, have considerably assigned two or three seats in the open cars to the men with cigars. These are at once pre-empted by the women, though all the front seats may be empty. Into the smoking cars on the railroad trains come the women sometimes, and the cigars must then be thrown out of the window or dropped to the floor. On board ship the women find the smoking saloons the most attractive parts of the vessel. Some smokers may disregard their presence, but others who may admire this exhibition of temerity dare not imitate it. At home his wife reminds the man that his old cigar is scenting up the whole house and filling the curtains with foul-smelling smoke that refuses to be shaken out. In pleasant weather he takes to the veranda; his neighbor's wife immediately comes over and the women are sure to get on the leeward side of him, and he must either throw down his cigar or see the smoke blown in their faces. Where can he go and what can he do? Perhaps after awhile he'll begin to put up signs like this:

"Persons who do not smoke will please not occupy these tables or seats to the exclusion of the smokers. Persons to whom cigar smoke is in any degree objectionable will please occupy the chairs and tables in the other rooms."

This is not an arraignment of the fair sex; it is merely a plea for the oppressed. The man is at most times as pleased to have the women around as they are pleased to be around, but there are moments when even their delightful company could be spared. There are places, dedicated to the man and his cigar, where he would really like to be able to smoke at ease and with a tranquil mind.

YOUNG MEN DRESSMAKERS

Attractive Males Often Make Success of the Garment-Fitter's Art—A Typical Example.

Attractive young men stand at the head of many of the most famous dressmaking houses, says Eleanor Hoyt Brainerd, in Everybody's Magazine.

Doeuillet is one of the most typical of the group. He is housed in one of the most historic palaces of the Place Vendome, where he has the most superb establishment in Paris. The work turned out harmonizes with the setting. Elaborate confections are Doeuillet's specialty, his prices are monumental, and his clientele is made up from what one of his rivals has called "the swell mob," meaning the rich and extravagant as distinguished from the exclusive and chic.

But if one speaks of Doeuillet to one of his patrons it is not of his frocks one is likely to hear, but of his beaux yeux—"an Adonis, ma chere. Such a manner, such a figure, such eyes! Ah!"

Francis is another of the charmers, and, like the others, he backs up his charms by ability. The French version of the tailor-made is his province.

Armand is the baby in point of professional career, the most recent addition to the new school. It is now several years since he rose above the business horizon, but it took him less than one year to climb to giddy heights. He was an unimportant salesman. Nine months later he was proprietor of a famous dressmaking establishment, occupying the old Saye palace, on the Place Vendome, the palace in which Napoleon the Little and Eugene first met. Once, more a triumphant combination of business ability and beaux yeux.

WHY BUCK'S HOT BLAST

Heater Will Actually Pay For Itself.

Because Buck's Hot Blast will produce as much heat and as satisfactory a fire in every way, by using the cheapest dollar and a quarter coal, slack or screenings, as other heaters in which you must use high grade soft coal or hard coal. You can see at a glance how soon this saving in fuel will make a Buck's Hot Blast actually pay for itself. It is not the first cost of a stove that counts so much, it is what you have to pay to feed it, in coal.

This is the "Buck's Stove."

ROMANCE OF TWO ARTISTS

Bouguereau and His American Wife
Were Engaged for Twenty Years Before Marriage.

The recent death of the great French painter Bouguereau recalls one of the most unusual and romantic international marriages in which an American woman ever figured, says the New York Tribune. Mme. Bouguereau, the widow of Adolphe Guillaume Bouguereau, was Elizabeth Gardner, of Exeter, N. H. She was born in that old New England town more than half a century ago, and her family had come here among the early settlers more than a century before.

In 1865 this daughter of the Puritans went to Paris to study art. It was a very unusual step for a woman in those days. Rosa Bonheur was as yet the only pioneer of woman's invasion of the artist colony of Paris. Miss Gardner had a long, hard struggle for success, handicapped throughout by a desperate lack of funds. In the Julian street studios she encountered Bouguereau, already famous and the critic of her class. The American girl became the friend of her instructor, his wife and family—a friendship which lasted until the death of the first Mme. Bouguereau, and has never ceased between the second wife and her husband's only surviving daughter, now married.

After the death of the first Mme. Bouguereau came the romance. Student and master fell in love and desired to marry. But the mother of the painter was intensely opposed to his marriage, not to Miss Gardner, especially, but to any American woman, necessarily so different in race, religion, ideas and temperament. Miss Gardner would not marry Bouguereau against the opposition of his mother. Therefore, for 20 years, as long as the old mother lived, they remained bachelors.

At this time Elizabeth Gardner was working steadily and patiently in her chosen art. She was the first American woman to win a gold medal in the Paris salon. She exhibited in the salon over and over again, the first of her pictures accepted there, years ago, being "Cornelia and Her Jewels." A few years ago she presented one of her paintings, "Across the Brook," to her native town, and it was placed in the art room of the Robinson seminary. When the marriage finally took place, Bouguereau won not an unknown student, but a well-known artist for a wife.

This was in 1886. Two years ago the distinguished couple were honored with gold medals from several European monarchs as an appreciation of their additions to modern French art.

WAS BEST SHOW FOR HIM.

When Gov. Warner Sought Information on Campaign, He Found Who Had "Best Show."

Gov. Warren of Michigan was traveling south from Cheboygan during the gubernatorial campaign a year ago when he happened to find a seat in the train near a man of Scandinavian descent.

Wishing to gather all the information possible, Mr. Warner asked casually:

"My friend, how do things look over in your part of the state? What do you think of this man Ferris?"

"Oh, she ver' gude wan, Ferris ver' gude wan," was the stolid reply.

"Well, what do the people think of this other candidate, this Warner?"

"Oh, she ver' gude wan. Warner ver' gude wan," and the Swede relapsed into silence that was unencouraging to say the least.

Mr. Warner, not very highly enlightened as yet, was persistent. He asked:

"Well, who do you think has the best show?"

Here the Swede considered deeply.

"Oh, Ah tank de ol' circus has da best show."

Radical changes in the existing tax laws of Kentucky will be made in the bill now being prepared by the special legislative committee on Revenue and taxation.

In one of the worst fires known in years in Great Britain thirty-nine men were burned to death at Glasgow, Scotland, while scores of others were injured.

Another extension of nine months has been given the Goebel Monument Sculptor. His model was only 4 1/2 feet instead of life size. The fund available is $17,000.

Lige Sebree, bright and brainy, witty and light-hearted, known to everybody and everybody's friend, is dead at the untimely age of 47 years. Wherever this item is read, there will be a feeling of genuine sorrow. Lige Sebree was one of nature's noblemen. Peace to his ashes.

The board of consulting engineers of the Isthmian Canal commission has declared itself by a majority in favor of a sea level canal. The conclusion was reached after a long and careful study of the project. It will take 15 years to build such a canal, but it will possess many advantages over the lock system.

It is easy to see who is behind the movement to induce Will Haldeman to enter the race for Senator. The man who has his race won never seeks to block the game or muddy the waters. The Haldeman movement followed close on the heels of a conference held in Louisville last week, at which Senator Blackburn and some of his managers were present. As between Blackburn and Paynter, the Louisville delegation will be for Paynter, and it is doubtful if even a shrewd flank movement can get their votes away from Paynter.

Dawson City Mail advises say that Dawson City people are out to attempt the discovery of the North Pole on methodical and scientific lines. For this purpose the International Society of Polar Research and Experiment has been formed, with a membership of over 200, including the Governor of Yukon, and all the important people of that Northern country. Experiments will be made during the present winter and in June next a dash will be made for the pole. The promoter of the scheme is D. Anthony Varicle, a French scientist and explorer. The plan is to start from Grantland, dashing overland by ice to the Pole, continuing 600 miles to Franz Land, taking in all, about 130 days. Ships will be used at each end, and wireless communication maintained throughout the trip. Several millionaires are backing the scheme, which will not fall through for want of financial assistance.

BURIED HERE.

Former Citizen Died at Earl- ington Friday of Pneumonia.

Joseph G. Ward, who left here many years ago and has been living at Empire for some time, died there last Friday night of pneumonia. Mr. Ward was 40 years of age and leaves a wife and four children. His mother and two brothers reside there. He was a member of Earlington Commandery No. 525, United Order Golden Cross, joining that order last February. He carried a policy for $1,000. The remains were brought here in charge of a committee appointed by his lodge. The funeral services took place at the Methodist church Sunday morning and the body was laid to rest in Hopewell.

DOCTORS MET

And Were Entertained in Sanitarium Yesterday.

The Christian County Medical Society's monthly meeting was held at the sanitarium yesterday and entertained as a body by Dr. C. B. Petrie at dinner. Last evening from 7 to 9 o'clock the Sanitarium was thrown open to public inspection for the first time and it is now ready for the formal opening for business.

More will be said hereafter about the reception last night.

BLACKBURN'S LATEST MOVE.

W. B. Haldeman Being Encouraged to Run For Senator.

A FLANK MOVEMENT.

Attempt to Keep the Louisville Delegation Out of Paynter Column.

Louisville, Nov. 18.—Much excitement, to say nothing of the resulting complications in Kentucky politics, followed the announcement today that Col. W. B. Haldeman, editor of the Louisville Times, and one of the owners of the Courier-Journal, as well as one of the chief factors in politics in this state, has about made up his mind to get into the race for United States senator, which is now being so bitterly waged between Senator Jo. C. S. Blackburn and Appellate Judge Thomas H. Paynter.

So much ill feeling has arisen in the preliminary contest between Blackburn and Paynter that many of the party leaders and nominees to the general assembly have come to the conclusion that in the interest of a harmonized Democracy in Kentucky a third man should be put into the race.

A conference was held in this city several days ago between the ten legislators from the Louisville districts, a dozen nominees in the districts out in the state and the leading political leaders, who decided upon Col. Haldeman as the man of the hour for this undertaking.

Another conference will be held early in the week when Mr. Haldeman will be formally requested to announce and it is said that he will do so, starting out with enough votes to prevent either Blackburn or Paynter from securing the nomination as long as he is on the track.

Every Two Minutes

Physicians tell us that all the blood in a healthy human body passes through the heart once in every two minutes. If this action becomes irregular the whole body suffers. Poor health follows poor blood; Scott's Emulsion makes the blood pure. One reason why is such a great aid is because it passes so quickly into the blood. It is partly digested before it enters the stomach; a double advantage in this. Less work for the stomach; quicker and more direct benefits. To get the greatest amount of good with the least possible effort, is the desire of everyone in poor health. Scott's Emulsion does just that. A change for the better takes place even before you expect it.

We will send you a sample free. Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

LAFAYETTE DRUG CO.

Recently Organized For Business at Lafayette.

The Lafayette Drug Company has been organized at Lafayette. The following gentlemen compose the new firm: Edwin Garner, R. W. Brandon and H. C. Crenshaw. Mr. Garner is manager and Esq. C. B. Fraser is at present prescriptionist. Messrs. Garner and Crenshaw have been in the drug business for several years and Mr. Brandon was also engaged in the same business, prior to becoming a member of the above company, with Esq. Fraser as prescriptionist. The new company occupies the Garner & Crenshaw house. They have added new stock to their already fine line, every available space being occupied, and are now fully prepared to meet the demands of the trade.

All of the gentlemen enjoy a wide popularity and we bespeak for the new concern a very liberal share of public favors.

BODY BLOW,

To Gambling Houses Delivered by Supreme Court.

Washington, Nov. 20.—Justice Peckham, of the United States supreme court, has handed down a decision of far-reaching importance to gamblers, and one which, if acted upon, would put gambling houses out of business. In plain language, the decision is this:

"If you have lost money in a gambling house, sue the owner of the building, or let your wife sue for you, and you can get your losses back. The owner will have to pay the judgment."

The case which called forth the decision comes from Ohio, and involved the constitutionality of the Ohio statute to prevent gambling. The judge decided that not only is that law constitutional, but that in every state where there is a gaming law the owner of the building wherein there is gaming is responsible for all losses growing out of it. The decision put responsibility for such losses squarely on the shoulders of the owner of the building.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a Home of Swamp-Root pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonials received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

DIRECTORS

To Be Chosen By Home Telephone Stockholders

The local board of directors of the Paducah Home Telephone company probably will be selected at a meeting of the stockholders of the concern this afternoon. Other important arrangements for the improvement of the local service and the enlargement of the company's interests in Western Kentucky will be made today.

The Paducah Home Telephone company, which is owned principally by E. L. Barber, recently assumed control of the People's Independent Telephone company, of Paducah, and have announced its intention of making vast improvements.

At the conference this afternoon are E. L. Barber, of Wauseon, Ohio; Col. J. D. Powers, of Louisville; J. E. Bergin, of Paducah, and J. C. Monteith, of Birmingham, Ala. Col. Powers is president of the United States Trust company of Louisville, and is interested in the local plant as well as the long distance system of the independent companies.—Paducah News-Democrat.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Miss Clara Bonte, Supt. Primary Dept.
Mrs. Lillian Yonts, Supt. Home Dept.
Dr. J. L. Wyatt, Association Visitor.
Dr. H. D. Smith, Association Instructor.

DISSOLVED.

Kentucky Insurance Companies Have Body By Themselves.

Heretofore the insurance companies doing business in Kentucky and Tennessee have maintained the Kentucky and Tennessee board of fire underwriters, which organization made rates on buildings and regulated the business otherwise. This week the body started in on its annual meeting for election of officers, at the Galt House in Louisville, and dispatches from there are that the association was dissolved and Kentucky will have an independent one by itself, as will Tennessee. The officers are now being chosen for the new bodies. The change was made necessary by a new law in Tennessee prohibiting an association with rate making powers.

out against the linceny and maudlin sentiment that has characterized our juries in the past, and the proper punishment of the red-handed murderer in the future is demanded by our citizens. It will take years to wipe out the blood stains on the reputation of our county and city, but it's high time to begin—not upon Cheaney especially, but upon all who may come after him.

The coroner's jury returned the following verdict:

"We, the jury, summoned by Coroner Allensworth to look into the cause of the death of Maude Ellis, find from the evidence that she came to her death from the effects of a pistol shot in the hands of John Cheaney, which was loaded with lead or some other hard substance. We believe this to be a cold-blooded murder. We further find that said Cheaney was not justifiable, and charge him with murder.

GOV. BECKHAM'S

Thanksgiving Proclamation is Issued.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 17.—Gov. Beckham this morning issued the following Thanksgiving proclamation:

"Commonwealth of Kentucky, Executive Department, Frankfort, Ky. Thanksgiving Proclamation, 1905.—In accordance with custom, and following the proclamation of the President of the United States, I appoint Thursday, November thirtieth, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer throughout the Commonwealth of Kentucky.

"I request that all business be suspended upon that day, and that all our people, with due observance of this hallowed and beautiful custom, give praise and honor to the Gracious and Merciful God, who has so richly blessed us a nation and as a people. Let us give thanks unto Him not alone with the usual religious ceremonies, but especially with deeds of kindness and generosity the poor and needy among us, more expressive of gratitude and more pleasing to him than all else we can do.

"In the plenitude of our country's wealth and prosperity, in the marvelous progress it has made under Christian civilization, let us remember that the Divine Teacher has told us in speaking of the virtues, 'the greatest among these is charity.'

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the Commonwealth to be affixed.

Done at Frankfort, this seventeenth day of November, 1905.

Clings to Infidel Belief.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 19.—In yesterday's issue of the Bluegrass Blade, of which C. C. Moore is editor, and who is now very ill, a vigorous denial is made of the report that the noted infidel had recanted and rejoined the Church of the Disciples, of which he was once a minister. It had been published in a local paper that Evangelist James Small, who is holding a meeting at the Broadway Christian church, had stated that Mr Moore had returned to the church, which Mr. Small denied.

Mr. E. B. Lindsay, of Elkton, spent Saturday here.

PASTOR AND PEOPLE.

Receive Charges From Rev. Hudson and Dr. Fogartie.

Notwithstanding the damp, cool and threatening weather Sunday night, nearly every pew was occupied to witness the installation services, under the conduct of Rev. Francis Cheek, of Louisville. After the preliminary services Mr. Cheek delivered a most powerful sermon, taking as his text Matt. 10; 34: "I came not to send peace, but a sword." This was one of the most powerful sermons delivered in the First Presbyterian church for years, and received the closest attention of the audience. The singing of "Come Unto Me," by Miss Elizabeth Jones, of Bethel Female College, deserves especial mention. Its rendition was all that could be desired and was thoroughly enjoyed. She has a sweet, soft voice and her enunciation is unusually distinct.

The charge to the new pastor was delivered by Dr. J. E. Fogartie, of the Ninth Street Presbyterian church, in a most impressive manner. His sentences were well chosen and full of wisdom and sound advice.

Rev. L. H. Hudson, of Owensboro, delivered the charge to the people. He pointed out most clearly the duty of the people to their pastor, warning them that any failure on their part to assist and encourage him in his work would be unfaithfulness to God.

Mr. Hudson occupied the pulpit at the morning service and his sermon has been pronounced excellent from every view-point. Mr. Hudson has preached here on a former occasion and the congregation were glad to hear him again.

Who Struck Him?

There was no service at the Ninth-street Presbyterian church at night, as that congregation had been invited to attend the installation services.

William Patterson, retired millionaire whiskey dealer, of Louisville, sustained a fracture of the left ankle and lay in the road near Anchorage in a driving rain for more than an hour before assistance arrived.

Mr. S. Walton Forgy, of Elkton, was in the city yesterday shaking hands with his many friends.

AN AWFUL SKIN DISEASE

Sores Covered Neck and Cheeks—Itched Day and Night—Nothing Did Me Any Good—Was Growing Worse.

CURED BY CUTICURA AT COST OF $4.50

Miss Nellie Vander Wiele, of Lakeside, N. Y., writing under date of April 18, 1904, says: "I do wish you would publish this letter in the newspapers, so that others suffering as I have may see it and be helped. I suffered for many months with an awful skin disease, sores covering my ears, neck, and cheeks. Scabs would form and they would swell, and itch day and night. Then they would break open and blood and matter run out. I had tried many different remedies, but none of them did me any good. I was growing worse when I tried the Cuticura Remedies. The first application helped me, and when I had used two cakes of Cuticura Soap, three boxes of Cuticura Ointment, and three bottles of Cuticura Resolvent, I was completely cured."

TORTURING, DISFIGURING

Humours, Eczemas, Itchings, and Chafings Cured by Cuticura

The agonizing itching and burning of the skin, as in eczema; the frightful scaling, as in psoriasis; the loss of hair and crusting of the scalp, as in scalled head; the facial disfigurement, as in pimples and ringworm; the awful suffering of infants, and anxiety of worn-out parents, as in milk crust, tetter, and salt rheum, all demand a remedy of almost superhuman virtues to successfully cope with them. That Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills are such stands proven beyond all doubt by the testimony of the civilized world.

Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills are sold throughout the world. Putter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Proprietors, Boston. Send for "How to Cure Skin Humours."

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

Met Yesterday and Adjourned to Meet Dec. 11

The county executive committee of the Dark Tobacco District Association met yesterday. Several matters of importance were discussed and addresses made by Hons, W. R. Howell, James Ragsdale and W. W. Radford. The meeting adjourned to meet again on Dec. 11, when a highly important matter will be brought up for action.

Sells More of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy Than of All Others Put Together.

The following letter from a locality where Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is well known shows by the unprecedented demand for it that the medicine sells on its own merit. Mr. Thos. George, a merchant at Mt. Elgin, Ontario, says: "I have had the local agency for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy ever since it was introduced into Canada, and I sell as much of it as I do of all other lines I have on my shelves put together. Of the many dozens sold under guarantee, I have not had one bottle returned. I can personally recommend this medicine as I have used it myself and give it to my children with always the best results." For sale by L. L. Elgin and Anderson-Fowler Co., up-to-date druggists at Hopkinsville.

Croup

A reliable remedy and one that should always be kept in the home for immediate use is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will prevent the attack if given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears. There is no danger in giving it to children for it contains no opium or other harmful drug. For sale by L. L. Elgin and Anderson-Fowler Co., up-to-date druggists at Hopkinsville.

Business Men's Association of Owensboro is getting a move on it.

Constipation

Health is absolutely impossible, if constipation be present. Many serious cases of liver and kidney complaint have sprung from neglected constipation. Such a deplorable condition is unnecessary. There is a cure for it. Herbine will speedily remedy matters. C. A. Lindsay, P. M., Bronson, Fla., writes, Feb. 12, 1902: "Having used Herbine, I find it a fine medicine for constipation." Sold by Cook & Higgins at 50c a bottle.

TOWN OF ROCKEFELLER.

Station in the Suburbs of Chicago Named for Multi-Millionaire Is Sole Owner of Name.

Chicago is displaying a new name on its street cars. It is that of Rockefeller. Probably no other city in this country has such a privilege, for Chicago now has a suburb that bears the name of the man so often seen in print nowadays, and this has become easier of access to Chicago by the extension of the Chicago & Milwaukee electric line. Big placards on the Evanston cars are now announcing that through traffic from Chicago, Evanston and Rockefeller is now on.

Since the electric line reached Rockefeller houses are being built, property is changing hands, and now a Chicago man has gone out there to run a hotel. The place is connected with all of the aristocratic suburbs of the north shore.

There are people out in this little place in Lake county who hope Mr. Rockefeller will yet feel inclined to do something for the only city, town, village or crossroads in the country that bears his name. It is related at Rockefeller that the capitalist asked that a town on a new line of railway that was building should be named for him, and the selection of Rockefeller is the subject of an interesting little story.

At that time the line now known as the Wisconsin Central was being built through the region and Mr. Rockefeller was a director of this company and at a meeting of the directors he incidentally asked if one of the new towns that were springing up could not be named for him.

It so happened that the station that had been selected to bear the director's name had been named for John Holcomb, who had been liberal in furnishing right of way through his lands. But Miss Holcomb, who had been a principal in a North side Chicago school, had established a school on her father's farm. Here she intended to fit young men and women for college. It might be that Mr. Rockefeller, in a town honored by his own name, might take some interest in an institution that promised to flourish under the guidance of an accomplished woman.

But that is all that ever came of it. There has been a sign board bearing the name of Holcomb sent to the new station. This was not put up and it is now in possession of Fred Holcomb. Another bearing the name of the director of the road was sent along and was quickly put in place on the side of the station and is there to-day.

For Bakers Only.

Bakers in France are subjected to certain unusual rules and regulations. In large fortified towns, for instance, they must always have a certain stock in hand in case of war. Not only this, but everywhere they have to deposit a sum of money in the hands of the municipal authorities as a surety of good conduct; and the law, not content with merely looking after their weights and measures, actually decides the price at which bread is sold.

Caught.

"Did that lady make a complaint against that sneak thief for stealing her jewelry?"

"No. She said she'd rather lose it than explain what she was doing when he entered. She was gossiping over the back fence at the time."

"Well?"

"She was afraid she'd have to repeat the gossip in court."—Detroit Free Press.

A torpid liver is valuable, if it happens to be the liver of a whale. From this organ comes ambergris, and it is estimated that the ambergris from a single whale is worth $10,000.

Are You Bilious?

If so, you will have more or less of the following

SYMPTOMS:

Not unfrequently the complexion becomes pale and sallow, there may be frequent attacks of bilious or sick headache, bitter taste in the mouth, tongue coated white or covered with a brown fur, unnatural, dry, harsh, or scaly condition of the skin, or branny eruptions and pimples. There is likely to be "backache," with tired feelings, lassitude and a sense of debility. There is depression of spirits with a decided tendency to be discouraged and despondent. There is loss or irregularity of appetite, uneasiness in region of the stomach, oppression, sometimes sour stomach, "heart-burn," nausea and "water-brash," flatulency, and acid eructations; the bowels become irregular, usually constipated, and occasionally subject to diarrhoea, attended with colicky pains. The foregoing symptoms are not all present in any one case, nor are any two cases alike in every respect.

The only way to help a disordered liver and cure biliousness is to treat it as it is—the great, organic, human filter of the human system. Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cleanses and clears it; invigorates and revitalizes this most important organ by its wonderful alterative power.

A Terrible Case of Suffering Caused by Liver Complaint.

DR. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.: Dear Sir—I will tell you how I regained my health, though I ought to have written long ago. Have been well two years. Seven years ago I had the first attack of "Grippe," and for many months afterward I could only say I never felt well. The doctor said the trouble was liver complaint. After being sick for three years, kidney and bladder trouble set in, which put me in a worse condition than I ever was before. Did not take a step but it would hurt my stomach so that it would all with gas and it would throw up my food to my throat. I kept getting worse, my stomach bloated badly, until there seemed no more room left in my body to hold it. My tongue became coated and the inside of my mouth so sore that, although it did not affect my voice itself very much, it caused pain in the throat when talking. In addition to all this the urine became so scalding that the burning sensation caused me to scream when passing it. Oh! the suffering and the anguish of that week I will never forget. I could not lie down nor sit up straight, nor walk nor do anything. Was all doubled up and had to be led from place to place; but here I am today, sound and well, all the thanks due to Dr. Pierce's medicines. I used eighteen bottles of "Golden Medical Discovery" and eighteen vials of "Pellets." May you live long to see many more poor sufferers from the stomach and despair—such as I had fallen into.

Gratefully yours,

Miss AUGUSTA RAFFLER.

439 Findlay Ave., Big Rapids, Michigan.

"Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol, syrup, or sugar, yet keeps perfectly in any climate.

Do NOT BE DECEIVED.—It is an insult to your intelligence for a dealer to attempt to palm off upon you a substitute for this world-famed medicine. You know what you want. It's his business to meet that want. When he urges some substitute he's thinking of the larger profit he'll make—not of your welfare. Turn your back on any dealer who offers you such treatment.

In obstinate constipation the "Discovery" should be used in conjunction with Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the most natural and thoroughly scientific laxative ever devised. The "Pellets" regulate and invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. One is a gentle laxative; two act as a mild cathartic.

If you require medical advice write Dr. R. V. Pierce who will give you the best advice possible, free.

Dr. Pierce's 1,000-page "Medical Adviser" is the most useful "doctor book" published. A copy in stiff paper covers sent on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only; in cloth binding ten stamps extra. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

The Wealth and Progress of Our Great Southland

Dixie Now Has Industrial Class Added to Man with Hoe and Aristocrat—An Evolution, Not a Revolution.

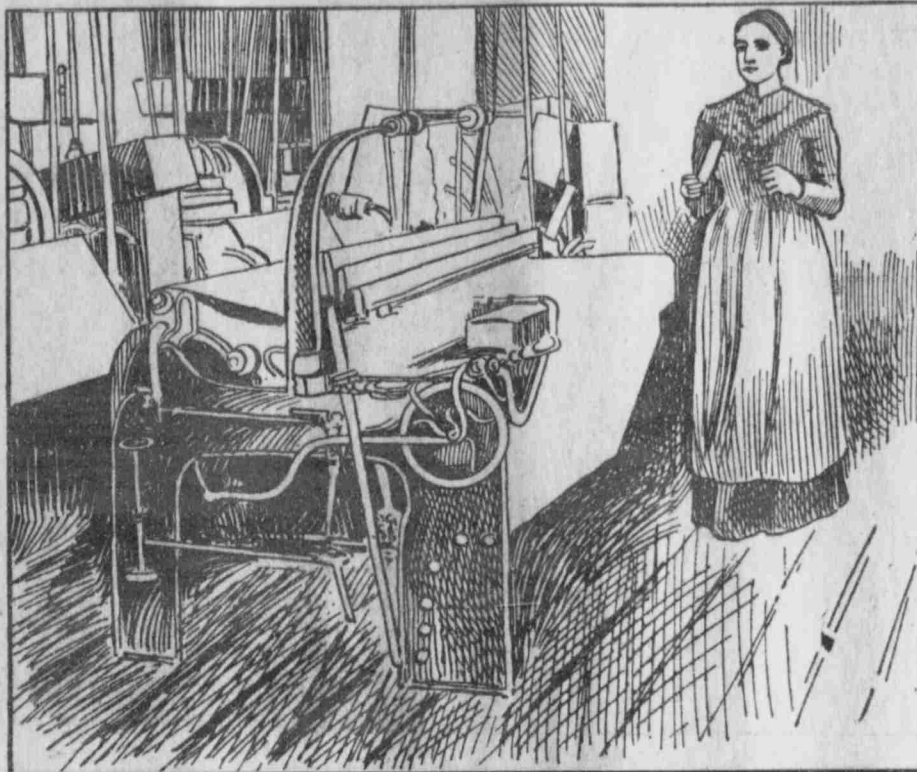

The northerner making a flying trip through the south, getting his impressions very largely from what he is able to view from a car window, is apt to give the country an ill name, judge it "worn and poverty-stricken." He should, ere he dilate on superficial impressions, get at facts. We call to his attention an editorial in the Chicago Record-Herald:

"Reference has been made in these columns to the leadership of our southern states in the production of cotton, and it is not surprising to find the Manufacturers' Record, of Baltimore, regarding the export figures of the past fiscal year with complacency. Among exports exclusively from the south it includes: Cotton, $379,965,014; cottonseed oil, $15,125,802; cottonseed cake and meal, $13,897,178; naval stores, $16,106,643; phosphates, $6,866,274. This makes a total of $451,980,911, and that alone was nearly one-third of all our domestic exports. But, besides the articles named, the south exports other products which it raises or manufactures in common with other parts of the country—timber, tobacco, petroleum, cotton goods, provisions, grain, coal, cattle, fruits, iron and steel, wood manufactures, leather—and its share of such exports is roughly estimated at $183,000,000. Hence a total of $634,980,911, or 41 per cent. of the value of all the exports of the country. 'The figures prove the wealth of southern fields, and unquestionably coal fields and tracts of timber near by, a mild climate, an ample supply of native white labor. New England now is the region called upon to adapt itself to change.

Constantly her transportation facilities are extending; coast and river navigation being improved, railroads developing. The south has now about 50,000 miles of railway. New mill villages spring up all over the land. Though we hear much of the poor pay received by the mill operatives, we must, ere we picture a state of abject poverty, take into consideration the fact that almost all of the necessities of life are to be had in the south at a much lower price than in the north. The tenement system of the north is practically unknown down there, each family lives by itself, about the cottage has a bit of ground where much of the living may be raised at practically no outlay of money. The mill companies often getting their ground for nothing, the former owners glad to favor the valuable new industry, can afford to provide the half acre about the cottage of the tenant mill worker. As a rule, the mill towns are laid out with care for the comfort of the residents, with attention to hygienic conditions.

The great iron fields of the southern Appalachian system have been opened up. The growth of this industry was marked as early as 1890, which year the yield of pig iron was 1,750,000 tons cotton is still king among our exports. The value of exports of raw cotton alone exceeded the value of the combined exports of breadstuffs, cattle, hogs and sheep, provisions and mineral oils. It was almost three times as great as the value of our iron and steel exports, and two-thirds as great as the value of all our manufactured exports.

"With such a staple and with its gains in new industries, the south is certainly entitled to feel fairly well satisfied." And the south now owns King Cotton, as never before. She no longer sends it all out to mills far from where the product is grown. As Leonora Beck Ellis, writing in Gunton's Magazine, forcefully phrases it: "The lower Atlantic and gulf states no longer constitute a mere agricultural tract, huge, unwieldy, badly tilted, with transportation dependent almost solely upon wagon roads and waterways, with scattered towns and a sparse and anomalous population composed of but two classes, the man with the hoe and the landed aristocracy."

The south has a great territory, something like 1,000,000 square miles of area. Thomas Dixon in his pictures of the south gives us, even the most ignorant, a vivid glimpse at the riches of this vast area; its riches of water and soil, its forests and minerals, wonderful resources. To change from an agricultural people to an industrial is not the work of a day, and though the new south is popularly spoken of as having experienced a revolution from old habits, old prejudices, the process has really been no other than one, one lacking solid foundation. It took tragic years to recover from the ruins of war. "The depths of suffering and poverty to which her people were hurled by the appalling cataclysm can never be adequately portrayed, nor can the protracted period of torpor be wondered at by any who reflect that the slaves emancipated without reimbursement represented a loss of $3,000,000,000 to a white population of less than 5,000,000, and the destruction that goes hand in hand with war eliminated or rendered useless almost that much more in public and private buildings and works. This, to say nothing of a labor system in chaos, and nearly half a million homes deprived of their defenders and supporters."

The new south has added to her man with the hoe and her landed aristocracy an industrial class; men appreciative of her great industrial possibilities. New England has found a strong rival down south, where economic advantages are with the latter. Proximity to the fields of cotton, abundant water power, immense as compared with the 184,000 tons of 1870. The "Manufacturers' Record" of Baltimore gives, in tabulated form, some interesting information on the changes occurring after the south decided to try the northern way of arriving at prosperity:

	1880	1890.
Railroad mileage....	20,000	50,000
Cotton crop bales....	5,750,000	11,199,000
Cotton consumption in southern mills, bales.....	233,886	1,231,000
Capital invested in southern cotton mills.....	$21,800,000	$125,000,000
Number of spindles in southern cotton mills.....	667,000	5,000,000
Cotton produced, bushels.....	421,000,000	736,600,000
Capital invested in southern manufacturing.....	$257,200,000	$1,000,000,000
Value of southern manufactured products.....	$457,400,000	$1,500,000,000
Wages paid to factory hands in south.....	$75,900,000	$350,000,000
Capital invested in cottonseed oil manufacturing.....	$3,500,000	$40,000,000
Pig iron produced, tons.....	397,000	2,500,000
Coal mined, tons.....	6,000,000	40,000,000

The great landed estates of the old south have been changed by the changing industrial conditions, the tenant system succeeding the war has given place to numbers of small farms the property of the man dwelling thereon. He can plant it to what crop he will, has no master to enforce the growing of cotton. When there came the decrease in the price of cotton and low prices continued, there were forebodings of evil among the many; but other southerners cried: "Change purposes and methods wholly. Diversify products to the utmost limit of our liberal climate and soil. Reclaim our waste lands; rotate crops, raise grain, hay, small crops of every type, stock of all kinds."

Southern farmers, it is needless to mention, have not forsaken cotton—it is in the manufacture of this staple the great progress has been made—but there is noticeable an enormous increase in the small crops, in cattle and dairy products. The cultivation of the grains is receiving general attention, the number of flour mills increasing with rapidity. Sheep-raising is a growing industry, especially among the hills of North Carolina and Tennessee. The subject of forestry is pursued on scientific lines, the lumber trade is advancing, the marine resources are bringing in a goodly harvest. In regard to development of mineral resources, mention should be made of the steel plants and iron foundries of Alabama. And mention should be made of the woolen mills of the south that are following the cotton mills. The southern evolution is a most notable feature of our industrial life.

German Liver Powder

(Dr. Carlatedt's)

Dr. Carlatedt's German Liver Powder is a wonderful remedy, a prescription used for over fifty years by an eminent German physician in his practice both in Europe and this country and sold by thousands of druggists all over the world. So mildly natural are the effects of this remedy that all Kidney and Liver troubles give way to perfect health. It cures the worst cases and many have been cured who had tried every known remedy.

Symptoms of Liver Complaint: Dyspepsia, indigestion, rheumatism, gout, skin eruptions, sallowness, constipation, dizziness, vertigo, headache, piles, pain in the back, melancholy, bad breath, furry tongue, horrid taste, unpleasant dreams, insomnia, undue sleepiness, nausea, flatulence, swelling of the abdomen, colicky condition of the bowels, pain and soreness in the stomach, liver spots on the skin, loss of memory, impaired vitality, dire forebodings, lack of energy, indolence, crankiness, blood poisoning, nervousness, falling hair—oh, there are lots of them and each one emphasizes the importance of having Dr. Carlatedt's German Liver Powder constantly within reach. It is the right thing at the right time, sure and certain in effect, pleasant and perfect in action. For your own sake, don't neglect any of the symptoms of liver disorder or the complaint will become chronic and the ultimate, after untold sufferings, is DEATH. Price 25c and $1.00.

HUNTER HURT.

Well-Known Insurance Man Loses a Hand.

The many friends of Mr. C. C. Claypool will regret to learn that he had the misfortune to lose a hand while out hunting a few days ago. He was bird hunting near Dyersburg, Tenn., his home, when he was shot accidentally and in such a manner that his right hand had to be amputated. Mr. Claypool's home was in this city until about ten months ago, when he moved to Paducah. From that city he went to Dyersburg about three months ago to locate.

A Pleasing Performance.

At the opera house last night the Jewell Kelley Stock Company opened to a capacity audience. Every seat in the house was occupied and some stood up to see the initial offering of this much heralded company.

The play offered was "A Fatal Step," a beautiful domestic drama which gave everybody in the company's cast an opportunity to display their ability. The play is one of those pure, wholesome dramas which more than satisfied the large audience. Mr. Kelley, in the leading role, is an actor of unusual ability; and is supported by a company of high standard reputation as actors. The entire acting cast is unusually strong, while the specialties by Baby Edna, Clifford Watson, Franklin Hall and the illustrated songs were alone worth the price of admission.

By a superior performance last evening, the Company demonstrated their title to the best popular priced show ever seen in the city.

Mr. Kelly announces a brand new line of plays for the week's engagement. To-night "A Kentucky Gentleman," Wednesday night "A Ward of France," Thursday night "Jesse James, the Missouri Outlaw," Friday night "The Fatal Wedding," and Saturday night "Nick Carter, the Great New York Detective."

"Sunset Mines" will be presented at the Wednesday matinee, when the curtain will rise at 3:30 in order to give all school children an opportunity to be present. At the Saturday matinee the great play of "Little Lord Fauntleroy" will be the offering.

The company is an excellent one and deserves packed houses throughout the week.

PUBLIC SALE.

Having sold my farm and decided to locate in Colorado, I will, on Tuesday, Nov. 28, 1905, at my place, about five miles from Hopkinsville on the Bradshaw road, sell at public auction to the highest bidder, my entire personal property and farming implements of every description, consisting of wagons, mowers, and other farming utensils necessary for running a first class farm. Also a steam thrasher, saw mill, pea thresher, hay press and corn shredder, all in first class condition. Also 15 head of mules, 8 head of fine mares and horses, several nice colts, 12 head of Jersey cattle, 4 fine Jersey cows with young calves, 100 head thoroughbred Jersey hogs, about 150 barrels of corn, 20 tons of hay and 300 bushels of stock peas, 2 beautiful Shetland ponies, gentle and well broken to ride and drive with harness and buggies to match. One splendid log wagon, and all my household and kitchen furniture. Terms be will made known on day of sale. Dr. J. E. Gray, of Bowling Green, auctioneer.

MATT F. WINFREE.

Terrific Race With Death.

"Death was fast approaching," writes Ralph F. Fernandez, of Tampa, Fla., describing his fearful race with death, "as a result of liver trouble and heart disease, which had robbed me of sleep and all interest in life. I had tried many different doctors and several medicines, but got no benefit until I began to use Electric Bitters. So wonderful was their effect that in three days I felt like a new man, and today I am cured of all my troubles." Guaranteed at R. C. Hardwick's drug store. Price 50c.

NATIVE OF CHRISTIAN

Passes Away in Arkansas at Ripe Old Age.

Mrs. Maria Steele, formerly of this city, died on the 9th inst. at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. L. P. Drake, in Little Rock, Ark. She was the youngest daughter of Henry and Elizabeth Allen, who died here many years ago. Mrs. Steele was 85 years old and was born and reared here. She moved to Arkansas in 1850, when she settled in Pine Bluff. After a residence of forty years in that place she moved to Little Rock, and had since made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Drake.

She had been a member of the Methodist church for 75 years, and was a most excellent Christian woman. She is survived by two children, Mrs. L. P. Drake, of Little Rock, and Hon. T. B. Morton, of Fordyce. Mrs. Steele was twice married, her first husband being a Mr. Morton. The body was interred at Pine Bluff.
